

I wanted to provide comment against extending the rights of the Low Power FM stations over the FM translator service. I currently am a daily listener to K-LOVE, a community interest radio station that broadcasts via FM translators. K-LOVE provides an invaluable community service to its listeners in providing spiritually uplifting music and encouraging words from the Bible. This is a niche which has not been filled by any commercial stations. The community would be severely harmed if Low Power FM stations were allowed to overtake the airwaves that K-LOVE currently uses.
